

Can Be Used With Frame or Pole Style Tents

Frame Tent

For Frame Tents, use the large velcro loops around the poles of the frame.

Pole Tent

For Pole Tents, use the short velcro tabs to attach to the perimeter rope

Leg Drape Installation

1. Unfold the leg drape with the short velcro loops positioned towards the top.
2. Orient the fully opened leg drape with the velcro loops up and wrap it around the outside of the tent pole with the long, vertical velcro seams facing toward the inside of the tent.
3. Attach velcro tabs or loops onto the horizontal tent frame or ropes, at your desired width.
4. Pull leg drapes out around the outside of the leg then connect the long, vertical velcro from the top of the leg down towards the bottom, keeping the fabric tight. The velcro will be attached onto itself with the seam facing inside of the tent and the entire leg is covered.
5. Connect the sashes with the little velcro tab, located in the center of the sashes, into the larger full length leg drape velcro at the desired height.
6. Create a bow or formal tie with the two fabric ends of the sashes to complete the look.

Fabric Care Instructions

1. Ensure all velcro is attached back on itself - no exposed velcro. If left exposed it will cause the fabric to pull and damage the leg drapes.
2. If necessary, a soft brush and diluted dish soap can be used on the fabric for pre-cleaning.
3. Cleaning recommendations:
Hand washing is best, but leg drapes may be cleaned in a washing machine. Place leg drapes only (no other items) into the machine, select the gentle cycle with cold water and use only a small amount of laundry soap.
4. Never use any kind of bleach, as it will attack the fabric color. Household water-based, mild cleaners can be used for stain removal.
5. After cleaning and/or washing make sure the fabric is rinsed free of all cleaning agents.
6. Air drying is best. However, leg drapes can be placed in the dryer on low heat or delicate cycle only. Remove right away to minimize wrinkling.
